Agents for the next era of enterprise work.

Your most complex processes, run end to end by agents built on the knowledge of our senior domain experts.

The team on every outcome

Discover	Interviews your people and reads your records, then drafts the plan.
A senior expert from our team	Decides what agents can't and owns the result.
Agentix	Its specialist agents work in your systems and pass anything outside their limits to a person.

Start with work that runs every day

Revenue reconciliation	Two agents resolve each invoice exception and record the fix in ERP.
Service desk	One agent routes each new incident and writes its triage note.
Employee onboarding	Three agents get each new hire ready for day one.
Inventory operations	Three agents review stock every weekday morning and raise the requisitions it needs.

Billing

- You're billed per verified outcome
- An outcome counts when your own records confirm it
- The bill stays flat while agents work
- No saving is claimed without a measured baseline

You decide what runs on its own

- You approve the goal before anything starts
- Agents have written limits they can't cross
- You decide which systems MAXION can reach
- Every action is recorded
- Your data is isolated in its own tenant
